About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

REMEMBER about 10 days ago this department carried an item out of Pankeville which told of the horned toad that was killed at the Jessie Crank home?

Timmo got a lead a couple of days ago that might throw some light as to how this little creature from the great Southwest got into our area.

George Meyers, who lives just a half mile from the Crank place, told me that back in 1938 a cousin, Robert Basinger, brought him 14 horned toads from New Mexico. Five or six of them got away and he never saw them again.

The theory is that these toads, harmless although look like they carry the sting of death, got to some habitat in the area where they could survive and have lived and reproduced during the past 16 years, with one of the descendants getting into the Crank yard.

Could be possible.

REMEMBER the picture this newspaper ran a few days back of the pigeons crossing a street in busy New York City during an air raid alert?

Earl Crabb of this city took a picture of the pigeons at the same spot the day before the alert. Earl told me that the same buildings shown in the paper are in the background of the photo he took the previous day.

Mr. and Mrs. Crabb have just returned home from a trip through the east, where they visited New York City, Boston, Niagara Falls and other interesting places.

HAD YOU NOTICED that there are less chocolate-coated candy bars on the market? I hadn't. But I just read that cocoa beans have increased 1,000 per cent in price since 1941, causing candy technologists to pay more attention to non-chocolate coating.

WE'VE ALL HEARD OF river banks, national banks, state banks and blood banks. But did you ever hear of a watermelon juice bank? The magazine Food Engineering reports that a watermelon juice bank is maintained at Atlanta, Texas. The bank is kept in a deep freeze for free supply of the remedial fluid to patients suffering kidney ailments, the magazine states.

I NOTICED in the summer issue of Peabody People that President Stuyvesant Peabody, in a message, says he doesn't believe the coal industry can get more depressed than it now is.

"I am confident we have hit bottom and, as soon as we are again assured of profits, we will aggressively strike out for more tonnage," he says.

COPIED from the Eldorado Daily Journal is the fact that Eldorado City Judge Harry J. Flanders presided over a Cook county, circuit court case in which it is believed was given the largest award ever voted by a Cook county jury in a state court.

The journal says that a $200,000 damage suit against the Illinois Central railroad resulted in the verdict in favor of the plaintiff, who was the conservator of the estate of Charles Dale Bowman, 41, of Mattson, injured in 1948, when he jumped from a moving train. The evidence was that the engineer had warned Bowman to leap because a train wreck was imminent.

As a result of head injuries Bowman is confined to Jacksonville state hospital.

Mendes Victory Damages U. S. Far East Policies

Endorsement of French Premier Helps Geneva Parley

GENEVA (U.P.)—Western officials said today the French political victory of Premier Pierre Mendes-France gave the Geneva conference a new start but damaged U. S. Far East policies.

There was considerable speculation that the endorsement of Mendes-France early this morning by the French National Assembly would cause the Churchill-Eisenhower meeting in Washington next week to be called off.

Diplomats from all nations stayed up until dawn to hear results of the balloting. Their reactions varied from the gloominess of the American delegates to the cheer of the Chinese Communists.

British Heartened

The British were heartened. The anti-Communist Indochinese were terrified or uncertain. Communist Indochinese were dizzy with delight. The Russians were confident. French career diplomats were nervous.

British officials virtually ruled out any chance of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden going to Washington with Prime Minister Winston Churchill at a moment when the curtain was ringing up again on a new version of what had been a dull drama on Indochina.

Eden tentatively had been scheduled to leave for London Saturday morning unless the Communists made concessions of major importance at this afternoon's meeting on Indochina.

Smith Hoped To Join Talk

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith had hoped to travel to England over the weekend to join in discussions with Eden and Churchill in preparation for the proposed June 25 meeting in Washington with President Eisenhower.

How to deal with the new premier became a major problem and the White House was expected to supply the eventual answers to Smith.

The big question was: Should the United States disassociate itself from any solution which would carve up Indochina or should it accept a formula for ending the war and avoiding the risk of intervention?

Mendes-France was believed to be in favor of a deal based on partition of Viet Nam and evacuation of Red invaders from Cambodia and Laos.

The British delegation now openly favors such a settlement.

Gen. O'Daniel To Probe Seizure Of 5 Americans

HANOI, Indochina (U.P.)—The United States announced officially today that Communist Indochinese rebels had captured five Americans and sent Major Gen. John W. (Iron Mike) O'Daniel flying to the scene to investigate their seizure.

The Americans were Air Force technicians engaged in servicing French planes in Indochina. Their capture first was reported without official confirmation Thursday from Hong Kong.

O'Daniel, chief of the U. S. military mission in Indochina, took off from Saigon for Tourane Air Base, where the captured men were stationed, in an effort to find out how the Reds seized the men.

The Americans were reported by authorities in Saigon to have been seized by the Communists at a small deserted beach near the Tourane base.

More Than 200 In Indochina

Later an Indochina farmer loyal to the government said he saw the Americans marching south in a column of French Senegalese prisoners guarded closely by Communist soldiers.

The farmer said he watched the men get out of an automobile on the beach and shoot their carbines into the waves before taking a dip.

More than 200 American Air Force mechanics have been in Indochina for several months, servicing and repairing U. S. supplied fighter bombers and transports, airlifting supplies and men to distant battlefronts.

French authorities feared the five would be used for propaganda purposes to "prove" the United States had intervened in the Indochina war.

The U. S. embassy in Saigon refused to release any of the captured men's names or home address until relatives have been notified.

Storms Fail to Break Heat Wave in Midwest

By United Press

Tornadoes and storms whipped the Midwest for the fourth straight night Thursday, but failed to snap a record-breaking heat wave.

Another scorcher was predicted today for such Midwest cities as Chicago, which has sweltered through a week of temperatures over 90 degrees.

Forecasters said a band of cool air stretching from western Lake Michigan to northeast Colorado might possibly break the heat wave. But they weren't sure.

A twister swept through two counties in northeastern Nebraska, starting near Pilger in Stanton County and traveling northeastward into Wayne County, knocking down telephone lines, striking at least nine farm homes and demolishing all buildings on at least two farms. A schoolhouse near Pilger was destroyed.

Muncie, Ind., was swamped by 6.15 inches of rain in two hours and high winds tore the roof off a meat company warehouse.

At St. Cloud, Minn., egg-sized hail stones piled up so fast they were a foot deep in some sections.

City Council Defers Action on Dog Quarantine

Await Naming of Rabies Inspector By County Board

The Harrisburg city council yesterday deferred action on a proposed rabies quarantine of dogs in the city until July 15, when the Saline County Board of Supervisors will meet.

At the July meeting of the board, the question of naming a county rabies inspector, a veterinarian to administer the new state rabies law, is scheduled to come up.

If the city dog situation cannot be resolved then, Mayor Ralph Horning said, the matter of a quarantine will be brought up again and a city dog-catcher will be hired.

The city has been trying to work out a system to halt the practice of dogs running loose and one method was the recommendation of Dr. B. E. Montgomery, city health physician, that a rabies quarantine be put on.

Mrs. Tim Turner, Humane society president, said at the meeting that the society opposes the rabies quarantine because there has not been a case of rabies here. A check with the Egyptian health department yesterday, she said, revealed no cases of rabies in dogs in the state this month except in and around Cook county and in Richland county.

Wants Ordinance Enforced

Dr. Montgomery said that it was not necessary to have rabies put on a rabies quarantine, that such a quarantine would eliminate any rabies hazard.

In answer to a question by Mayor Horning, the society head said it would co-operate with the city in furnishing a place to take the animals if a dog-catcher is put on, but was opposed to the rabies quarantine, as several hundred dogs in the city already have received the rabies inoculations, as provided by state law.

If a drive on dogs is started, she said, she wished that the city would do the picking up and be responsible for the penalties, and to take the complaints.

The city has an ordinance which, if enforced, would stop dogs running loose, she said. It provides for prosecution of owners of animals who persist in letting them run loose and she said she believed it could be enforced if pushed a bit harder.

"Prosecute the owners, don't persecute the dogs," she said.

Council Gives First Reading to Bond Delivery Ordinance

Another step was taken yesterday afternoon on the path to an ample water supply for Harrisburg.

The council, at an adjourned meeting, gave first reading to a bond delivery ordinance prepared and presented by City Attorney D. F. Rumsey.

The ordinance provides for the delivery of $200,000 in water revenue bonds to the purchaser, which is the Barcus-Kindred Co. of Chicago, and for the deposit of the bonds received by the city treasurer.

Following approval on first reading, the ordinance will lay over for public inspection until the July 6 meeting, when it will be brought up for final passage.

Sen. Gore Seeks To Block AEC Power Contract

To Ask Congress Committee to Vote on Resolution

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) announced a three-pronged drive today to block President Eisenhower's move to put the Atomic Energy Commission "in the power business."

He said he would ask the House-Senate Atomic Energy committee to vote formally on a motion urging the commission not to sign a power contract "until the basic issues are settled."

He also announced he would "demand" that the commission act on this question only by formal roll-call votes of which the Congress is informed.

In addition, Gore said he would "insist" that the directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority "maintain" their own independence of management functions.

President Orders Signing

The commission disclosed Thursday that Mr. Eisenhower had ordered it to sign a contract with private power firms to supply power through the TVA for the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky.

The revelation came at a hearing of the joint congressional committee which is discussing the issue. Under the Presidential order, the Mid-South Southern utilities group would build a plant near West Memphis, Ark.

It would channel 600,000 kilowatts of power into the TVA system to replace an equal amount of power TVA is delivering to the atomic plant at Paducah.

The AEC said construction of the private plant would help the government save 100 million dollars in the next three years in the contemplated expansion of TVA facilities.

It also said the cost of the private power would be "reasonable" compared to TVA estimates when all factors, including taxes, are taken into consideration.

But Gore lashed out at the plan in a statement today. He said the administration's "ulterior motive" is aimed at preventing TVA from increasing its power facilities.

He said, however, that his reason for attacking the plan is that it is putting the AEC, which is supposed to deal with atomic affairs, into the power business.

"It is frightening in view of the enormous power potentialities of nuclear development," he said. "The Congress cannot and must not permit this threat to the independence, probity and impartiality of the atomic energy commission to go unchallenged."

Senate Votes For Cutback Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The administration claimed a new legislative victory today with Senate passage of a cutback military budget of 29 billion dollars.

The Senate shouted approval of the House-passed measure late Thursday after voting 50 to 38 to defeat a Democratic move to restore two Army divisions scheduled to be eliminated because of reduced funds.

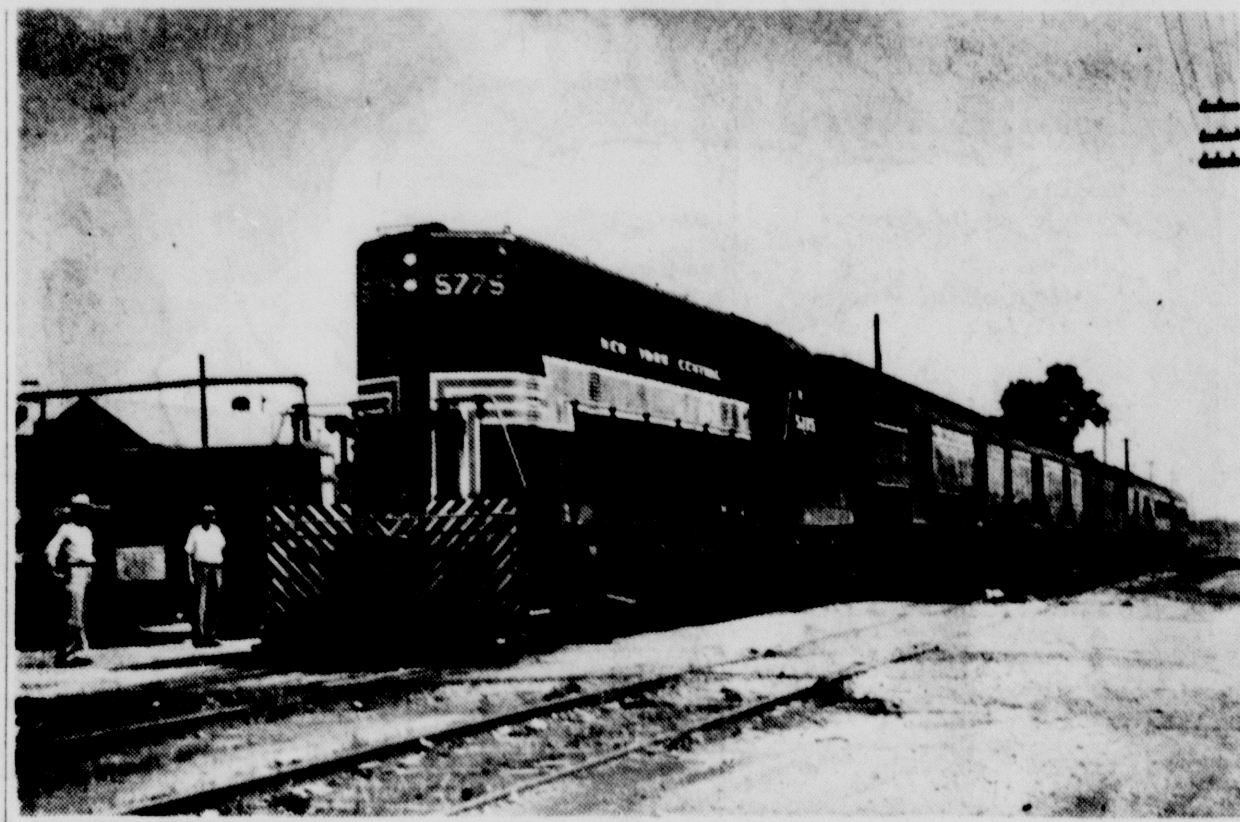

Forty Republicans and 10 Democrats teamed up to block the measure, removing the last remaining danger to the measure which fulfills most of the administration's requests. Minor differences now will be ironed out by Senate-House conferees.

The bill, as approved by the Senate after only two days of debate, provides $29,216,584,486 in new funds for the military services in the coming fiscal year. This is $600,000,000 less than originally requested by the administration but trimmed its request after the budget was slashed $1,200,000,000 by the House.

With passage of the defense bill, making up half of the administration's budget in the coming fiscal year, Congress is well ahead of its normal pace in passing the money bills. The House has now passed 10 of the 11 regular appropriation bills, the Senate seven.

Two have gone to the White House. The only Senate fight on the defense budget came over Democratic objections that the administration was gambling with national security by cutting military funds $5,500,000,000 below last year's level.

Virtually all the cut falls on the Army, which will lose one of its 20 divisions this spring, and two more in the coming fiscal year.

New Air Conditioned New York Central Passenger Train Now in Operation

When the new passenger train of the New York Central lines pulled in on time yesterday morning, a Daily Register reporter was on hand to look it over.

Yes, the train pulled into the Harrisburg station exactly at 9:30 a. m., the hour it was due.

And the reporter on hand to meet it found that the New York Central right now is giving much better service to passengers between Harrisburg and Chicago than has been given in the past.

Recently the railroad announced that in an effort to win back customers to its southern Illinois service, it would inaugurate a test period of improved service at lower cost. The improved service is here and the lower cost will be in effect July 9.

The railroad will keep figures on its receipts during nine months of improved service, then present them to the Illinois Commerce Commission at a new hearing on discontinuing the train if business has not picked up considerably.

Walter Wirth, NYC agent here, conducted the reporter through the new, diesel-pulled train.

The train that came in yesterday had three baggage coaches, one combination baggage and mail coach, one chair coach and one Pullman. The chair and Pullman coaches were air-conditioned.

The coaches used have not been on this line before and are an improvement over the old ones. They are clean, the seats recline comfortably and it was easy to tell that one could get good rest in the day coach.

The Pullman coach contains three double bedrooms, ten lower and ten upper berths. The rest rooms at each end were ample and

Puerto Rican Woman Absolved Of Intent to Kill

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Thin, defiant Lolita Lebron took issue today with a federal jury which late Thursday absolved her of intending to kill when she helped shoot up the House of Representatives last March.

The jury earlier convicted her of assault with a dangerous weapon. But she insisted she is just as guilty as her three confederates who were convicted of assault with intent to kill as well as with a weapon.

"I cannot understand why I am not guilty as the boys," she said, without conceding there was really anything wrong with their fanatical act.

As it now stands, Mrs. Lebron faces a prison term of up to 50 years. But the three men, Rafael Cancel Miranda, Andres Figueroa Cordero and Irving Flores Rodriguez, face prison terms up to 75 years.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff postponed sentencing pending a report on the trio's background. But ultimate jail terms were expected to be lighter than the maximum allowed by law.

Dale Charges Majority of Grand Jurors Unqualified

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (U.P.)—Federal attorneys today prepared an answer to a petition by Evan Dale, AFL laborers' union leader, in which he charged that a majority of the grand jurors who voted his indictment for labor racketeering were "not qualified."

Attorneys for Dale asked the court last Tuesday to reveal the names of all members of the grand jury so they can "properly prepare" any motions attacking the validity of the grand jury.

Sen. McCarthy Outlines Seven Future Probes

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today planned a vacation for himself and an ambitious program for his Senate investigating subcommittee.

After the grind of his televised row with the Army, he said he wanted to get away from Washington for a few days with his pretty bride, Mrs. Jean Kerr McCarthy.

He expected to leave sometime before nightfall for Land O'Lakes, Wis. But he indicated he might change his mind and select some other site for a five-day vacation.

Seven Point Program

McCarthy outlined his plans for future investigations late Thursday at the closing session of the marathon Army-McCarthy hearing.

In reply to a question by Sen. Henry C. Dworshak (R-Ia.), he ticked off a seven-point program that he wishes to undertake as soon as possible. This includes:

1. Hearings conducted by a subcommittee member, Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) into charges that American prisoners of war are still held by Communists, some of them since World War II.

2. A resumption of his hearings on Communists in defense plants, especially those involved in secret government work.

3. A demand that members of the old now-extinct Army Loyalty Board be called to testify to "find out why over the past 10 years they were sending people with clear-cut Communist records back to the Fort Monmouth radar laboratory."

He conceded he would have to have the consent of his subcommittee colleagues before calling these witnesses.

4. A renewal of his investigation of former Maj. Irving Peress, the Army dentist whom he calls a "fifth amendment Communist." He said the public should know who "gave special consideration to this man who graduated from the Communist leadership school."

5. An investigation, long pending, into "graft corruption and fraud" in Alaskan housing projects.

6. A decision on the subcommittee's "authority and power" to go into alleged infiltration of the Central Intelligence Agency.

7. "What if anything we can do about alleged Communist infiltration of atomic and hydrogen bomb plants." He said he decided last year after consultation with White House aides, not to hold public hearings on the subject at least at that time.

Schine Ordered to Report to Fort Myer

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Pvt. G. David Schine was ordered by the Army to report to nearby Fort Myer, Va., today to receive his formal orders to return to his military duties at Camp Gordon, Ga.

Schine, a central figure in the Army-McCarthy hearings, was in advanced training at Camp Gordon when the controversy broke out. He was transferred to Fort Myer to be available to testify, and he made one brief appearance as a witness.

One Vacancy on Eldorado High School Faculty

There is still one vacancy on the Eldorado Township high school faculty, Principal W. A. Knoop stated today.

Miss Betty Mitchell has resigned as girls' physical education instructor and Mr. Knoop stated applications from qualified persons would be given careful consideration. Mr. Knoop can be reached at the ETHIS office any week day morning.

McClellan Also Asks Executive Branch Action

Statement After Closed Session Renews Bitterness

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) today demanded an immediate "housecleaning" of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigating subcommittee staff because of "alleged threats" and failure of some staff members to get Defense Department security clearance.

McClellan also said after a stormy closed session of the special Army-McCarthy investigating subcommittee that the executive branch has an "immediate responsibility" to take "appropriate action" against executive officials who were "principals" in the Army-McCarthy hearings.

McClellan was asked if he referred to Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Army counselor John G. Adams when he said the executive should take appropriate action against executive officials. "They are principals, aren't they?" he said.

Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel of McCarthy's subcommittee, and other staff members, also appeared to be targets of McClellan's demand for a "housecleaning."

But McClellan would not specify any names.

McClellan's statement to newsmen marked a renewal of the partisan bitterness that ran throughout the 36 days of hearings, which ended Thursday.

The two other subcommittee Democrats, Sens. Stuart Symington (Mo.) and Henry M. Jackson (Wash.), endorsed his statement.

McClellan's views came in the wake of a demand by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) for an "overhauling" of the McCarthy subcommittee staff.

Would Fire "Top Employees"

Potter, in a press statement released Thursday during the closing minutes of the hearings, said "top employees" involved in both sides of the case should be fired.

Both Symington and McClellan said two members of the subcommittee staff applied for clearance from the Defense Department more than a year ago and it still has not been granted.

"If you don't grant it, you refuse it," Symington said in answer to a question as to whether it had been refused.

The staff members were not identified.

McClellan said he will move to block any further investigations by the regular subcommittee, with McCarthy as chairman, until action is taken on the staff "housecleaning" and the "alleged threats" to subcommittee members.

The latter included a sharp exchange of words last Friday between Cohn and Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Democrats, in which Cohn reportedly threatened to "get" Jackson.

Mundt Ignores Fireworks

McClellan talked to newsmen after Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) had left without giving reporters any indication that there had been any verbal fireworks. Mundt's version was that preparations of reports on the long Army-

25 Traffic Deaths During May in Southern Illinois

DU QUOIN, Ill. (U.P.)—A traffic death toll of 25 persons on Southern Illinois highways in May is believed to be the highest single month's fatality total since Dist. 13 headquarters of the Illinois State Police were set up here 20 years ago.

Two months earlier the 17-county district went through March without a highway fatality for the first time on record.

Jefferson and Williamson counties each had five traffic deaths during May.

Massac and Randolph counties were next with three each. Johnson had two and Alexander, Franklin, Jackson, Pulaski, Saline, Washington, and Union one each.

Gallatin, Hamilton, Hardin, Perry and Pope counties went through May without a highway fatality.

State police investigated 135 accidents in the district and made arrests in 54 per cent of the collisions in May.

The highest previous death toll on record in Dist. 13 was 19 in October, 1950.

Miss Sally Ann Roemer, Valgene Gribble Exchange Marriage Vows at Rolla, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Valgene Gribble

Miss Sally Ann Roemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Roemer, 1801 Oak street, Rolla, Mo., and Valgene Gribble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Gribble, Harrisburg, exchanged wedding vows in a lovely candlelight ceremony Friday evening, June 11, at 7 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church in Rolla.

The Rev. G. Scott Porter performed the double ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with palms, stock and baby's breath.

Mrs. H. B. Estes, organist, played the traditional wedding music. Miss Kathleen Brown sang "Because," and after the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Perry Huston.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in ivory satin with a Chantilly lace trim. The fitted bodice featured a lace yoke and Peter Pan collar and the bouffant hooped skirt extended into a cathedral train. A pearl trimmed lace bonnet held a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a lace covered Bible adorned with a purple orchid encircled with a baby's breath and hung with lavender ribbon streamers.

Miss Jane Roemer, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was becomingly attired in pink nylon net, fashioned with a four tiered skirt, fitted bodice, and cape. She carried a basket-shaped bouquet of Bettertime roses and ivy.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Bob Williams, a friend from Harrisburg. Frank Watson and Keith Smith, Rolla, served as ushers and also lighted the candles before the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Roemer chose mauve lace with linens and with which she wore purple accessories and an orchid tipped gladiolus corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gribble, was dressed in powder blue linen with lace trim and white accessories. Her corsage was of deep salmon gladioli.

Immediately following the ceremony a lawn reception was held honoring the young couple at the home of the bride's parents. Japanese lanterns and wedding bells decorated the lawn.

A white bouquet of mixed flowers centered the lace covered bride's table. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Erna Mesko and Miss Jeanette Arthur served cake and punch while Miss Juanita Nelson had charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Orval Gribble and son, Larry, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams, all of Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glauret and Mrs. Howard Perry, St. Louis, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Roemer Sr., Mrs. R. M. Spillman, Ralph and Jerry Spillman, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Devine, all of Pacific, Mo.

The bride was graduated from the Rolla high school with the class of 1954. She has been a Worthy Advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, and was Homecoming Queen in 1952.

The bridegroom graduated from the Harrisburg Township high school and is now a student at the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy in Rolla.

The couple is now in Harrisburg where they will spend the summer months. They plan to return to Rolla in the fall.

Explosion, Fire Wrecks Building In Stockyards

CHICAGO — An explosion and fire all but demolished a five-story building in the heart of the Chicago stockyards today and threatened to spread before firemen brought it under control.

No loss of life or injuries were reported.

At least 50 pieces of fire equipment were rushed to the sprawling yards to keep the blaze from spreading. Firemen trained streams of water on the endangered structures, which included three oil tanks.

The blaze swept through all five stories in two sections of the semi-circular Armour feed department plant, breaking through the roof and sending flames at least 200 feet in the air.

A plume of smoke towered 600 to 700 feet over the flames, fanned by a slight breeze, and billowed over the South Side.

The most threatened structure was a semi-detached section of the feed plant containing stores of oil and grease. Its only protection from the burning structure was an 18-inch fire wall.

Firemen said the section might be saved if the rest of the plant doesn't collapse. However, Armour Plant Superintendent Charles L. Campbell said it was "a miracle" this hadn't occurred.

The blaze was rated a 5-11 with a special alarm for extra equipment added.

Firemen said the fire was sparked by an explosion on the first floor of the fertilizer building, one of the oldest structures at the yards.

The blast occurred in a vat used for boiling down fat and scraps. About 40 employees were in the building at the time, but all escaped uninjured.

Warden Ross Randolph said Burton was placed in isolation pending a decision of his case.

Russia Vetoes UN Plan for Peace Observers

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Russia today vetoed a United Nations plan to send "peace observers" to the Indochina border to report on the Communist advance in Southeast Asia.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin used Russia's Security Council veto for the 60th time to block a Thailand resolution requesting the U. N. to send a watchdog team into Thai territory to observe the Indochina situation.

The vote was 9 to 1 with Lebanon abstaining.

The Soviet veto opened the way for the question—the first aspect of the Indochina War—to be considered by the U. N.—to be taken up by the veto-free General Assembly, probably later this summer.

Tsarapkin had charged the resolution was an American plot to wreck any chance of a peaceful settlement of the 8-year-old Indochina War.

Style 986—distinctively modern. Attractive light finish.

In our family a piano is a big purchase. We looked around plenty! Since we're not musicians we checked with people who are. Time and time again the suggestion came back—Acrosonic.

The Acrosonic is a spinet, they told us, but it's not a midget. Its action is full size—its tone clear and resonant.

Being a business man I know the importance of the manufacturer, and there isn't any better than Baldwin. It's a big company (in business since 1862) with tremendous facilities and generations of know-how. When Baldwin makes a spinet it has to be the best! Separation Pact Signed by TV Comedian, Wife

NEW YORK — Television comedian Jackie Gleason has signed a separation agreement with his estranged wife, Genevieve, that will give her about $43,750 a year and should "end all disputes between us."

The roly poly funnyman, who says he now loves Marilyn Taylor, a dancer on his TV show, announced signing of the agreement Thursday night. He said he will give his wife 12 1/2 per cent of his gross income, which reportedly is about $350,000 a year.

In addition, Gleason said, he has agreed to give each of his two daughters 1 per cent of his income until they are 24. If his earning power continues at the present rate, this would give them about $3,500 a year.

The children, he said, will remain in custody of their mother. Gleason said he will never divorce to marry Miss Taylor because both he and his wife are Roman Catholics.

Demand McCarthy Group Housecleaning

McCarthy hearings was the principal topic under discussion.

As he went into the meeting—where Democrats gave him a warm reception—Potter told newsmen he planned no motions "at this time" to carry through on his dramatic statements of Thursday. Potter had asserted the hearing record was "saturated" with perjury and "those employees who have played top roles" on both sides should be dismissed.

Cohn, Carr Seem Targets
Potter's denunciation was clearly aimed, at least, at Roy M. Cohn, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's chief counsel, and Army counselor John G. Adams.

His language was interpreted by many as being broad enough to include some others.

In an apparent move to insure no action on Potter's suggestion today, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) wrote Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) requesting that the subcommittee make no important moves at the closed meeting which he could not attend.

Mundt said he expected no motion or any other move "to separate anyone." He said the closed meeting was called primarily to attend to "some housekeeping problems" piled up during the long hearings.

Neither McCarthy nor Cohn was present.

Mundt had hoped to learn at today's meeting if the group's four Republicans and three Democrats could agree on a single report on the hearings. The ranking Democrat, Sen. John L. McClellan (Ark.), said such a unanimous report was unlikely.

McClellan said the Democrats would wait until the Republicans draft their own report, which may take most of a month, before deciding whether to go along or file a minority report.

Study Record for Perjury
The Justice Department has been studying the hearing transcripts for possible perjury. But a spokesman indicated it will be some time before there is action, if any.

If there is doubt about legal action or the future of the principals, however, there seems to be little about the political impact of the case. The experts are generally agreed it was hurt the Republicans and helped the Democrats.

McCarthy, the last of 30 witnesses, concluded his testimony Thursday night with a declaration that the Army charges against him and his aides had collapsed and that his own countercharges were true.

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said at Quantico, Va., that the hearings vindicated the Army, proving its "integrity" and its determination to "rid itself of subversives."

India Holds French Liner, 84 Passengers

LONDON — A spokesman for Air France said here tonight that a French charter airliner has been detained by Indian customs officials at Dum Dum Airfield in Calcutta.

The British news agency Exchange Telegraph reported from Calcutta that the French plane had its 84 passengers have been held since Thursday.

The plane and its passengers were detained, the news report said, when Indian customs officials found military equipment and military passports aboard.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has announced military air traffic to and from Indochina may not cross India.

Joppa to Vote on Sewage Bond Issue

JOPPA, Ill. — A special election will be held here July 8 on a $250,000 bond issue to set up a Joppa sanitary sewage district.

A panel of judges recently decided that only a small portion of the 197 million dollar Joppa steam plant property should be included in the district for tax assessment. Construction of the plant on the Ohio River near here has boomed Joppa's population and created a sewage disposal problem.

Eisenhower Asks Additional $135 Million

Most of Money Wanted for Jobless Pay

By United Press

President Eisenhower asked Congress for an additional $135 million today, most of it for unemployment compensation.

The new money would be for expenditures in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Of the total, $131,609,000 would go to the Labor Department. Of the Labor Department's share, $88,400,000 would be for unemployment benefits and 43 million dollars would go to states for unemployment compensation and employment service administration.

The other requests: Three million dollars to meet an increased patient load in Veterans Administration hospitals.

$553,150 for additional Hoover Commission "task force" studies on reorganization of the government.

$489,500 for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the Public Health Service and a survey of juvenile delinquency by the Children's Bureau.

Farm: Chairman George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), of the Senate Agriculture Committee said he doubts Congress will extend the present rigid high price support program on basic crops. But if it does, and President Eisenhower vetoes the legislation, there is "no possibility," Aiken said, that the Senate could muster the votes to override.

Housing: Chairman Homer E. Capehart said the Senate Banking Committee will start public hearings June 28 on the multi-million-dollar scandals in the federal housing program. He said evidence obtained in secret questioning of about 10 witnesses points to "improper collusion" among builders, appraisers and, in some cases, property owners.

McCarthy: Chairman William E. Jenner of the Senate Rules Committee all but ruled out hearings in this session on moves to strip Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of two committee chairmanships.

Foundations: Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) quoted the Bible at a congressional hearing Thursday and was accused of "showing off" by Committee Chairman B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.). This touched off another bitter row between Hays and Republicans on a special House committee investigating activities of tax-exempt foundations. Hays repeatedly has accused the committee staff of bias and prejudice against foundations.

Christmas Ban
The city of Boston established a five-shilling fine for the observance of Christmas in 1650, its authorities wanting to do away with its attendant feasting and frivolity.

Sen. Mundt Says Nation is Fortunate It Can Settle Differences Openly

WASHINGTON — Acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt of the Senate Investigating subcommittee says this country is "fortunate" it can settle differences such as the Army-McCarthy dispute openly and publicly.

The South Dakota Republican made the statement in a summing-up speech shortly before the hearings ended late Thursday after 36 days.

"I dissent from those who feel that this is a disgraceful spectacle because people disagree, and I feel those who feel that this is a much better way to settle a dispute than to do it behind closed doors and in star chamber sessions," Mundt declared.

Mundt conceded that the "irrelevancies and diversions" had been injected into hearings. But he said they concerned "significant disputes" in which "honest men have a perfect right to differ."

American Way Works Best
While it may appear to some that arguments which have, on occasions, been heated, and sometimes unhappily personal, they are a reflection on our American system of government," he said.

"We settle in America our arguments by an exchange of viewpoints, sometimes heated, sometimes unhappily personal," he added. "But we don't settle them as duels do, we don't settle them at pistol point, we don't settle them by brute violence. We settle them by appeal to the minds."

Other comments as the hearings ended:

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.): "The series of events, actions and conduct that precipitated the ugly but serious charges and counter-charges that made these lengthy and unpleasant public hearings mandatory I think will be recognized and long remembered as one of the most disgraceful episodes in the history of our government."

Dirksen Charges Crusade
Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.): "The crusade against the sinister forces with which we have been contending for a long time must go on with renewed vigor in the interest of the perpetuity of a free country."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.): "Certainly the American people have a right to expect that we take whatever action is necessary to correct the abuses which have been shown here."

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.): "I sincerely hope that as a result of these hearings there will be a greater degree of co-operation between the executive branch and the legislative branch."

Symington Asks Decision
Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.): "The American people will have to give very serious consideration to the contention by a member of the legislative branch that he has the right to solicit."

Employees in the executive branch of the government to secretly bring to him and his staff confidential documents... A decision on that important matter, if it comes soon, may have justified these hearings."

Sen. Henry C. Dworshak (R-Ida.): "... I think the major consideration is to close the ranks and to eliminate misunderstanding and the disagreements which have developed on this important question."

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.): "... I will do everything humanly possible to work with our Democrat friends so we can have a good, going, working committee which I think we must have."

If this Congress is to do the job that we are supposed to do, namely, act as the watchdog and let the American people know what is happening."

"You can expect the most raiding in the best melon patch"

You can bet your bottom dollar on it.

Come next year, or the year after that, you'll be seeing on other cars some of the styling features you see in Buick today.

We expect it. It has happened before. And there is good reason for it—popular appeal.

Take, for example, the car model shown here.

We call it a Riviera. Most people call it a "hardtop."

When Buick introduced this body type in 1949, it was a completely new thing. And it was an instant hit.

Today, Buick "hardtops" outsell all other models in the line. It's the styling America has taken to its heart.

So today you find that every major car maker has his own version of this Buick original. (And we can't blame them a bit. They know a good thing when they see it.)

Maybe you've noticed other such borrowings from Buick.

The diagrammatic sketch shown here lists some of the Buick advances that are now reflected in the styling of other cars—or will be soon.

For you can be sure that the great panoramic windshield first shown by Buick this year will be copied. It's too good to pass up.

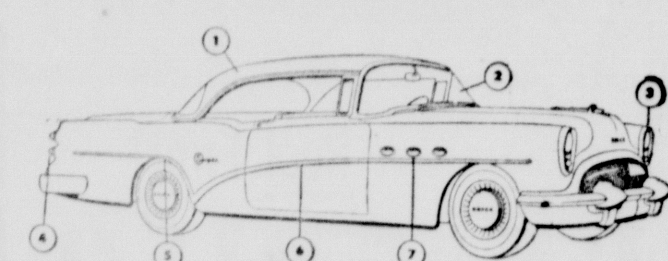

And you can be sure that the full rear-wheel cutout now on every 1954 Buick Riviera and Convertible will show up elsewhere in the future. It's a sports-car touch that hits a really popular note.

We're sure of such things.

We're sure because the tomorrow-styled Buick of today seems to be just what people want. Because Buick sales are soaring. Because Buick now outsells every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

So to you we say—why wait another day to see and drive a new Buick? It's the beauty of the year. It's the buy of the times. And it's a wonderful way to head up the parade.

Drop in this week for a demonstration, won't you?

STREET ROD

by Henry Gregor Felsen

Copyright 1953 by Henry Gregor Felsen. Printed by arrangement with the publisher, Random House, Inc. Distributed by H&A Service.

THE STORY: After using his savings to buy an old car, against the wishes of his parents, Ricky Madison, 16, is a little sour on his bargain. Pride won't let him admit this to his parents, not even after he finds that there are many expenses beyond the original cost of a hot rod.

"I don't suppose I have to tell you that if I find out you're misusing the car, I'll insist you give it up," Ricky's father said.

"Gosh," Ricky said, "I couldn't be reckless in this old car if I wanted to. I bet it wouldn't go over 40 if you had it wide open. But I'll be careful. With everything it's going to cost me, I'd be a fool to risk getting in a wreck!"

Mr. Madison smiled slightly at the self-righteous tone that had crept into Ricky's voice. "I trust your judgment, Ricky," he said. "But from the looks of your car, I wouldn't do much driving until I had better tires on it, and fixed it up a little."

When his father left, Ricky went to the far side of his car and sat down by the front wheel.

Stuck. His father knew it, his mother knew it, the guys knew it, and he knew it. Trying to act like a big shot, he'd really shown himself up for a dope. No wonder they were laughing at him. The way he had let Merle cheat him. No wonder Sharon had looked at him in disgust. He'd proved that he was a worse kid than she thought.

Payments... insurance... license... parts... He was stuck for a couple of hundred bucks, and he'd have to take that grocery job now. And what did he have to show for it? A junker nobody wanted.

But he'd show them all! He'd prove he hadn't been cheated. He'd rebuild his car until he had a rod that could match wheels with anybody. It could be done—maybe. Then they wouldn't sneer at him. Not after he showed them what he could do. That was the ticket all right. Work quietly, and make a real bomb out of the coupe. And then, some day when they were all giving him a rough time, invite Link to drag against him. Ricky grinned, thinking about his coupe leaving Link behind.

"Ricky..."

There they were, at the head of the drive. Link, Chub, Sherm and Jerry, sitting in their cars. Ricky scrambled to his feet. "It's all right, guys," he yelled.

"Good enough," Jerry yelled back. "We brought you some stuff."

While Ricky watched with glowing eyes, the boys took the "stuff" out of the trucks of their cars. Ricky shook his head in wonder as each of them came toward him rolling a tire and carrying other equipment.

"We thought you might need these gummies," Jerry said, leaning his tire against Ricky's car. "They're all better than the ones you've got on."

"Gee," Ricky said shakily. "I sure appreciate it."

"It wasn't nothing," Link grunted. "Just old stuff we couldn't use. It's good enough to keep that junker of yours from riding on the door handle."

Chub added to his tire gift a dented chrome extension for Ricky's exhaust pipe, a death's-head gearshift knob, and a radio antenna. Ricky was grateful for the antenna, even though he didn't have a radio. It gave him a place to mount and fly the thinning squirrel tail that Sherm had brought along with some extra chrome acorn nuts for the heads.

"Gee, guys," Ricky said shakily, looking at the treasures they had brought. "I'll never forget this you guys. Anytime I have anything you need, you just ask."

"We're just trying to make sure you won't explode when you're out with us," Jerry said.

Ricky was reluctant to have his friends examine the car. He didn't want them to see how bad it really was.

"Start her up," Link said. "If she'll start."

Ricky started his motor and got out again while it idled. Link lifted the hood and unscrewed the radiator cap. "Bubbles," he said tersely.

Ricky's heart sank. Bubbles could mean a cracked block or a cracked head. If that were true, he was really in for trouble.

When the motor stopped, Link pulled out the oil dip-stick and examined it closely, then ran his fingers along it.

"No water or bubbles," Link said. "I guess the heads and block are okay. Probably a blow head gasket. You'll want new ones anyway, when you tear this mill down and clean it up."

Link got in the car and pressed the starter without turning on the key. "She clicks," he said. "Starter drive teeth are worn." He started the car. He gunned it a few times, and clouds of dark smoke rolled out of the exhaust.

"My carburetor needs work," Ricky said.

"Get new jugs," Sherm said. "Don't fool with that one."

They walked around to the back of the car. The put-putting at the tailpipe indicated leaky exhaust valves. Ricky put his hand down to touch the muffler. It was hot. Well, a valve and ring job was to be expected. It was expensive, though.

"I still think you ought to take it back," Jerry said.

"You guys don't understand," Ricky said, needing to convince them and himself that he ought to keep the car. "I wanted an old junker. I'm going to take this car and work on it until it is something. Then I'll sell it and buy something decent. I'd be afraid to fool around with anything good until I knew more about it."

"Say..." Chub's round face creased into a wide, admiring smile. "You got something there, boy. Why didn't I think about that? There's a lot I'd like to learn on your car."

Marciano Wins Decision Over Ezzard Charles in 15 Rounds; See Return Match in September

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Rocky Marciano's next heavy-weight title defense probably will be a September return bout with lion-hearted Ezzard Charles, who threatened for a while Thursday night to recapture the crown before 47,585 in Yankee Stadium.

Marciano wound up with the unanimous 15-round decision after a thrilling battle.

Manager Al Weill said today, "Charles will be our first choice if Rocky's eye heals in time for the fight."

The unbeaten champion, who made his third successful defense and achieved his 46th straight professional victory, suffered the reopening of an old gash on his left brow in the fourth round. Dr. Vincent Nardiello took 11 stitches in the wound this morning at St. Clare's Hospital.

Charles, of Cincinnati, 32, lost the decision in his second attempt to win back the title; but he earned lasting admiration for his heroic gameness and amazing ruggedness.

Gate Totals $543,092

They fought a thrilling bloody battle before a crowd that paid a gross gate of $543,092 and cheered the amazing rallies of Ezzard in nearly every round after the ninth when Marciano had taken definite command.

Rocky began bleeding from the nose in the first round, from his gashed left brow in the fourth and from the mouth in the 12th. Charles suffered a gashed right brow in the eighth, a cut mouth in the ninth and a blood clot in his left cheek in the 14th. He finished with his right eye almost closed.

Rocky drew the biggest gate of his career. In addition, the International Boxing Club will receive about $180,000 from television and $35,000 from radio. Rocky's purse, biggest of his career, will approximate $275,000.

Charles will get about $135,500 as his 20 per cent, although he failed in his attempt to become the first man in Marquis of Queensberry Rules history to recapture the heavy crown.

Fails To Disprove Axiom
Charles failed to disprove the old heavy-weight axiom, "they never come back." But he did force Rocky to fight the first 15-round bout of his career. And he snapped Rocky's string of knockouts at 19. Ezzard, 32, was the first to last a distance with the relentless Brockton pulverizer since Red Applegate finished 10 on April 30, 1951.

Marciano admitted today, "It was my hardest fight." Charles said Rocky had hurt him several times, particularly with a punch to the adam's apple. However, he emphasized that Rocky did not punch as hard as Walcott, with whom he had fought four times and who knocked him out once.

Charles Weighs In Light
Weill said "We prefer Charles as the September opponent if it's all right with promoter Jim Norris. However, we understand Norris has been giving some consideration to an international match with Don Cockell of England."

Charles weighed in unexpectedly light, 185½ pounds, and Rocky scaled 187½. Before the weigh-in Ezzard had been expected to have an advantage of about four pounds. And Ezzard started off the fight as if his light poundage had made him a super-fighter as he beat Rocky in the first four rounds. The champ rallied to capture the fifth and sixth after hurting the challenger with left hooks to the head. Charles came back to hurt Rocky with a right-left-right combination in the seventh. They fought on even terms in the eighth.

After that Rocky staggered Ezzard with two right hooks to the head in the ninth and stunned him at least once in every round thereafter. Charles took a terrific beating but meanwhile electrified the crowd by bursts of explosive rallying. It was amazing that Ezzard remained on his feet throughout—particularly in the 15th round when he was rubber-legged most of the time.

Patton Leads Opening Round In U. S. Meet

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. — Goldfingers' younger guard, led by amateur Billy Joe Patton of Morristown, N. C., threatened today to gang up on Bantam Ben Hogan in his bid for a record fifth U. S. Open championship.

Hogan was only two shots off Patton's pace as the second round opened and that's a comfortable position for the four-time titlist who often gets better as he goes along.

But ahead of Belting Ben were four younger stars all attuned to tournament pressure—Patton, Bob Toki of Livingston, N. J., Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., and Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif. — while 25-year-old Al Mergert of Mamaroneck, N. Y., was dead even.

Patton, a husky Carolinian who just missed licking both Hogan and Slammin' Sammy Snead in the Masters championship, rolled home Thursday with a one under par 32—49 and became the first amateur since Bobby Jones in 1929 to lead the open field through the first round.

The 32-year-old Patton hit the rough six times and was trapped five times but "on my lucky day" he slipped out of trouble and his 69 stood up all days as the only sub-par round.

Three Score To
Toki, Kroll and Littler all had par 70s. Hogan came in with 71 along with Mergert and the veteran Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo.

Snead, playing with an ailing back "that's sore as a boil," came in with 35-37—72 for a tie with eight others, including former Open champions Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa. Tommy Bolt of Houston and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., also were among the 72s.

Grouped at 73 were Shelley Mayfield of Seguin, Tex., Jackie Burke Jr. of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Freddie Haas of New Orleans and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill. The 74 shooters included Bobby Locke of South Africa and George Fazio of Pine Valley, N. J., who lost a playoff involving Hogan and Mangrum in the 1950 Open.

As soon as he looked at the scoreboard, Hogan revised his prediction that someone would break his 72-hole record of 276 set at Los Angeles in 1948.

"No, they won't break the record," said Ben, "particularly if that wind keeps up. It was shifting around today and seemed to be against us on every hole."

The garment trade is the leading industry in New York City.

Giants Defeat Cincinnati, 2-1, for Sixth Straight; Cards Lose in 15 Innings

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
Now the Giants don't even need hits to win ball games.

Fashioning what could be a new "Miracle of Coogan's Bluff," the New Yorkers won their sixth in a row Thursday and took a two-game first place lead in the National league race with a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati. And it was accomplished by—of all things—an old fashioned rolling slide into second base by Hank Thompson.

Cincinnati rookie Art Fowler gave up only one hit, a single by Willie Mays in the second, and reliever Frank Smith yielded another in the eighth. Neither meant anything.

What won't be forgotten, though, is Thompson's artful collision with second baseman Johnny Temple to break up a double play while Whitey Lockman trotted home with the marginal run. Fowler created his own trouble by walking winning pitcher Johnny Antonelli with one out. Whitey Lockman tried to sacrifice and the throw to second was in time to retire Antonelli but shortstop Roy McMillan dropped the ball for an error. Al Dark walked to load the bases and Thompson hit what looked like a sure-fire double play ball to Johnny Temple at second.

Temple Fumbles
But Temple fumbled and Antonelli scored. Then on an even better double play possibility, Monte Irvin bounced to McMillan but Thompson's slide knocked Temple out of the play and it was only a force out as Lockman scored. Antonelli turned in a five-hitter for his ninth victory against only two losses.

The Dodgers wasted three homers in a 6-4 loss to Jim Wilson of the Braves, who had pitched a no-hitter in his last start. Hank Aaron, Ed Mathews and Danny O'Connell homered for Milwaukee in a 10-hit roughing up of lefty Johnny Podres. Jackie Robinson hit two Brooklyn homers and Duke Snider got one.

Eighth Straight for Indians
Cleveland made it eight in a row with a 6-4 victory over Washington in the American league. The White Sox stayed three games behind with a 6-4 win over Philadelphia. The Yankees made it eight victories in their last nine by topping the Orioles, 9-3. Detroit defeated Boston 2-1. In the only other National league game Robin Roberts went all the way as the Phillies beat the Cardinals, 3-2, in 15 innings. Chicago at Pittsburgh was rained out.

Chicago made 12 hits, all singles except a double by Minnie Minsos to give lefty Jack Harshman his third win. He needed relief help after Bill Wilson and Gus Zernial homered for all of the Philadelphia runs in the seventh.

Early Wynn struck out seven but ran into control trouble when he loaded the bases on walks in the seventh and had to have help from Bob Hooper. A two-run single by Wally Westlake and a run-scoring double by Vic Wertz gave Cleveland three runs in the first inning to set up Wynn's eighth victory. Mickey Vernon hit a two-run Washington homer.

J. C. Caroline to Attend Summer School To Bring Up Grades

CHAMPAIGN — J. C. Caroline, all-American halfback from the University of Illinois, is back in the academic good graces of the school but will have to attend summer school to erase two failures from last fall semester.

Athletic Director Doug Mills said he could not disclose the number of courses Caroline will take in the summer session but said he was making normal progress toward a degree.

The star halfback broke Red Grange's all-time ground-gaining records at Illinois last season and hosted the Illinois into a Big Ten championship tie with Michigan State.

Caroline created some excitement when he failed to appear in the final intra-squad game of spring practice. It was learned that he was having trouble with his grades.

Britain to Refuse U. S. Request To Search Ships

LONDON — The Foreign Office said today Britain will refuse to let American warships stop and search British merchant vessels for arms shipments bound for Guatemala.

British refusal was expected to be followed by Europe-wide rejection of the American proposal intended to prevent gun-running to the Central American republic which the United States charges is Communist-tainted.

Britain, while turning down the request, promised to "cooperate to the fullest extent possible" under British and international law in seeking to prevent British ships from carrying arms to Guatemala.

France, Denmark and Norway were expected to take similar positions. West Germany was believed the only nation likely to agree to the American request.

Republican Party Probably The Heaviest Loser from Army-McCarthy Hearings

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The judgment most often expressed hereabouts as the Army-McCarthy contest wandered wordily on was that the heaviest loser from the proceedings would be the Republican party.

And that seems to be the consensus as the opposing and disagreeing jury of senators sets about preparing what are sure to be conflicting majority and minority reports.

A grave decision of political import now confronts Mr. Eisenhower. Shall Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell order grand jury proceedings looking toward perjury prosecutions after study of the testimony? It seems that somebody lied. Such legal proceedings would be right down the Democratic alley in an election year.

There hasn't been such a ruckus within a political party here since Senate Democrats in 1937 beat down FDR's plan to reorganize the Supreme Court. But in 1937 FDR and the New Deal were riding high. Mr. Roosevelt had just been returned to office with the electoral votes of every state but Maine and Vermont. Not even the Supreme Court fight could slow the party's political momentum then.

Not so with President Eisenhower and the Republican party. It is fair to say as of the time the Army-McCarthy hearings began that the Republicans stood to lose 25 or so House seats in November unless things political improved for the GOP. Mr. Eisenhower and his Republicans had not then notched any fat to spare. The party needed the political breaks and needs them badly between now and general election day.

Public Follows Closely
For more than a month the public followed closely the picture and story of charges and counter charges of intrigue and sharp practice involving notable Republican figures. Democrats consistently referred to the hearings as an exhibition in proof of their contention that the Republican party lacked what it takes to govern a great country.

More concrete, practical politics is involved in the proposition that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy lost considerable stature. There always was a large element among the Republicans who disliked McCarthy and a considerable group which would do him in at all costs. President Eisenhower never had any love for the senator. But until McCarthy and the Army tangled it had been the plan of the Republican National Committee to make the greatest possible use of McCarthy in the coming campaign. It was confidently expected that he would be the No. 3 speaker, second only to Mr. Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

McCarthy's Range Narrowed
McCarthy will be a campaign figure, all right, but it is not expected that he will be able to range as wide and freely as had been expected. The Republican National Committee is backing away from him. The evidence of polls and editorial statements suggests that the hard core of pro-McCarthy voters has not much changed but that the senator has lost some among the in-betweens.

There is not much evidence that the hearings have delayed action on any of Mr. Eisenhower's legislative program. But they unquestionably have diverted public attention from them, thereby diminishing the President's opportunity to rally public pressure for his bills.

The impact of the hearings overseas has been punishing to American prestige. It is likely that the United States' preoccupation with the proceedings has helped blind the public to the urgent international crisis in Europe and Asia with their menace of another great war.
